

Cancer Center Amsterdam

Publication and PhD thesis award 2023

Objective:

Each year, Cancer Center Amsterdam (CCA) will grant awards for CCA publications and theses. The winners will receive their awards at the annual CCA conference (20&21 June 2024) where they will give a presentation about their research.

Terms/conditions for the publication award:

- The publication award is given to the first author of a report of original scientific research, published in a peer-reviewed scientific journal in 2023. Only original research reports are eligible: no literature reviews, letters to the editor, etc. Publication date (online) must be between January 1 2023 and December 31 2023.
- The first author must be an employee of Cancer Center Amsterdam.
- The nominee should be available to accept the award in Noordwijkerhout on June 21 and give a brief presentation about their research.
- The authors of the publication use, besides their own department and institute, the affiliation 'Cancer Center Amsterdam' (and not AMC Cancer Center Amsterdam or VUmc Cancer Center Amsterdam).
- Principle investigators/project leaders can nominate a candidate, or first authors can nominate themselves if they are a PI or a project leader.
- The applications for this award will be evaluated on quality and originality of the publication.

Terms/conditions for the PhD thesis award:

- The PhD thesis award is given for an outstanding PhD thesis which is defended in 2023.
- The research in this thesis must be embedded in Cancer Center Amsterdam.
- The PhD candidate must be registered in Cancer Center Amsterdam.
- Promotors can nominate their PhD student by submitting the PhD thesis and a letter of recommendation to cca@amsterdamumc.nl.
- The nominee should be available to accept the award in Noordwijkerhout on June 21 and give a brief presentation about their research.

Call for the publication award:

- Applicants must submit the accepted or published article using the provided format.
- The deadline for applications is April 10, 2024 (cca@amsterdamumc.nl).
- The winner is chosen by the members of the CCA research board. Members with a conflict of interest do not participate in the voting.
